 The Commander-in-Chief is pleased to direct that the following General Order, which was issued to the Regiments of Her Majesty's British Army on the 20th ultimo, be published to Her Majesty's Indian Forces:—

BANGALORE.
 We received yesterday papers from Calcutta of the 3rd instant, from Madras and Bangalore of the 7th, from the North-West Provinces of the 6th, and the Poona Observer of Tuesday last.

The following is a list of additional passengers, who proceeded yesterday evening by the P. & O. Co.'s steamer Nepaul, to Aden and Suez:—
 For Marseilles—Capt. Napier; Dr. Collier.
 For Southampton—Lieut. Preston; Captain and Mrs. Southey and two children; Major Martin; Mr. C. White, (P. & O. Co.'s Service) Major Patey; Sergeant and Mrs. Deale; Sergeant R. Parsons; Mr. H. T. Palmer; Mr. B. Tarleton.

The departure of the mail steamer Nepaul was yesterday postponed till eight o'clock in the evening, as some important despatches were expected from the Governor General by the 7 P. M. train.

We learn from telegraphic advices received in Bombay that the Honorable Mr. Laing, our Chancellor of Exchequer, left Calcutta for England on the 9th instant by the P. and O. Co.'s steamer Colombo.

We much regret to record the death at Dapoorce, on Tuesday the 11th instant, of Captain D. J. Macdonell of the 2nd Regiment Bombay Native Infantry (Grenadiers), who was lately appointed to act as Conservator of Forests and as Superintendent of the Botanical Gardens at Dapoorce, during Mr. Dalzell's absence in England.

We published yesterday the Resolution of Government on the Educational Report for 1859-60. We have not yet seen the Report itself. The Resolution of Government leads us to anticipate real pleasure in the perusal of it, and in bringing it more fully to the notice of the public. The Resolution, moreover, brief as it is, convinces us that the Report must indeed be a record of "honest hard work," and also of "real progress" in the education of the people. We do not know what could be more gratifying, in the circumstances, than the following facts—that the number of schools has increased from 291 in 1855 to 761 in 1860; and the number of pupils from 23,681 to 44,166. So great an increase is guard the native reader against supposing that, what has found a place in this work is all that is to be seen in Great Britain. With due regard to the size of the book, attention has only been given to the most prominent objects which engage the attention of the traveller. The reader will form some idea of the vastness of the field for observation, when, it is mentioned that volumes could be written where pages have been given. It is impossible to describe in a work of this nature thousands of objects which attract the attention and excite the curiosity of a stranger in a walk through one of the streets of the busy 'World of London.'

Lastly, the author deems it just to mention that he would not have been able to put forth such a laborious and costly publication without the valuable support of Government. The able Director of Public Instruction in this Presidency, Mr. Edward I. Howard, has from the beginning been anxious for the publication of such a work, and the author begs thus publicly to acknowledge his obligations both to Government and to that Gentleman for the support his work has received.
 "The author's thanks are due also to many native gentlemen who have handsomely subscribed to the work."
 Bombay, 30th April 1861.

The Nawab of Furruckabad, now in exile at Mecca, has pitched a tent outside the principal mosque, and harangues the pilgrims, prophesying, with a full assumption of inspiration, that within five years the Empire of India will be regained by the Moslem, and the diadem lost by European Slaves be resumed by one of the faithful. He makes, says the Englishman, a very handsome income from the liberal donations of the pilgrims, whose hearts rejoice in the good tidings.

The Bengal Harkara learns from the Punjab that in consequence of the non-arrival of the usual remittances of bullion, the local Government has been receiving silver from private parties at the different Collectorate, and granting them Bills on the Presidency Treasury at a discount of two and a half per cent, and that upwards of six lakhs of rupees have already been drawn on Calcutta. Considering the rates at which similar Bills are granted in Calcutta even by the Native Shroffs, the discount allowed by that Government appears to be rather heavy.

The latest advices from America produced a wonderful effect on the Liverpool Cotton Market. During the week ending the 10th May, the week previous to the arrival of the latest American intelligence, the market was very animated, and large transactions took place, trade buyers especially operating freely. The total sales of the week amounted to 94,000 bales. During the succeeding week, ending the 17th May, in consequence of the news from America, there was quite a reaction: the market was dis-
